HIRAM DECLARES CALVIN'S CLAIM IS RIDICULOUS

Also Says G.O.P. Must Clean House or Have It Done By Vote.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 8.—The republican party must clean house or the people will do it for them, Senator Hiram W. Johnson, candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, declared in a statement today.
The senator characterized as "ridiculous and absurd" recent "mysterious and anonymous" assertions by Coolidge managers that the president already assured of more than enough convention votes to nominate.
"They follow the regular course of a bourbon campaign—to claim all while putting every obstacle in the way of free expression or fair contest," he continued. "If there were any such feeling of security or any such certainty of success, it would not be necessary to steal delegates in the south or deny primaries in the north, like in Minnesota."

"There bourbon republicans who control the republican machinery have a rude awakening before them and they may just as well make up their minds now, as next June, that the republican party must clean house, and if the republicans themselves do not clean their house, and clean it thoroughly, the people will do it for them."

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE FINALLY ACHIEVES ITS WINNING FORM

Boys Will Have Confidence in Ability in Future Contests.

The high school basketball team will meet Rock Falls tomorrow evening on the home floor. The defeat of Polo last week end has put the whole school in a joyful mood and they are very anxious to see the outcome of the game tomorrow evening. As Polo is one of the strong teams in this district the school is expecting a victory over Rock Falls tomorrow and it is expected that a large number of fans will be on hand in the south side gym to witness the fight which starts with a curtain raiser at 7:30 between Franklin Grove and the local second team.

Dixon, after finally having whipped a team of new men into winning form, expects to make a much better showing in the rest of the conference season, and also anticipates being in the running in the district tourney. The local quintet will play in the district meeting at LaSalle this spring, instead of at Freeport or DeKalb where many teams of this section will play.

Games March 6, 7 and 8
Polo and Oregon are among the teams who will play at Freeport; Rochelle, Ashton, Franklin Grove, Lee Center and Lee are among those assigned to the DeKalb district meeting.

March 6, 7 and 8 are the dates assigned for the tourneys, and C. W. Whitten, manager of the board of control of the Illinois High School Athletic Assn. has announced that the pairings for the district tournament throughout the state would be made during the week of Feb. 13.

The sectional tournament for this section will be played at Joliet and the state tournament will be held in the University of Illinois gym, March 21 and 22, the sectional being run off March 14 and 15.

JOHNSON CITY RAIDS CAUSED FRENCH DEMAND

Redress for Wrongs to French Citizens is Consul's Demand.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 8.—Damages alleged by Italian residents of Williamson county who have complained of actions said to have taken place in connection with dry raids there, may exceed $50,000, according to L. Zunini, Italian consul. He said that affidavits accusing the raiders had been forwarded by his office to the Italian ambassador at Washington. M. Barthelmy, French consul here, has referred similar complaints to the French ambassador.

Signor Zunini had before him today a report by Giovanni Ricco, consular agent at Springfield, of interrogations of nearly 30 Italians. One man alleged that raiders had stolen $200 from his cash register and had burnt his house valued at more than $5,000. Another alleged a raider had seized his wife by the throat.

It was denied at French consular offices that M. Barthelmy's letter to Ambassador Jusserand charged desecration of crucifixes.
Signor Zunini said he could not say whether such desecration had been alleged.
He said his information indicated that the damage would run from $50,000 to $150,000.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 8.—The French government, through A. Barthelmy, its consul here, has appealed to the state department at Washington, demanding redress for alleged wrongs inflicted on members of a French colony at Johnson City, Ill., during dry raids led by S. Glenn Young.

French authorities charge that Young and his followers in the raids are in fact pillagers; that crucifixes in the homes of French and Italian peasants were desecrated, and that the raiders made away with "everything they could lay their hands on." The primary purpose of the raids was to destroy any wine found in the working men's homes.

Similar action, it was stated, may be taken by the Italian government. More than 100 affidavits concerning alleged actions of the raiders have been taken by Giovanni Pico, Italian consul agent in Springfield and forwarded to the Italian embassy in Washington.

Young's raids are said to have been made on warrants and information sworn to by members of the Ku Klux Klan, which is also said to have furnished deputies from its membership.

The federal march against Vera Cruz, federal officers say, is being delayed owing partly to the destruction of a bridge at Atoyac and to a desire to avoid the danger of a rebel attack on his rear.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Feb. 8.—Bound to the posts of her bed, and with her mouth gagged, Miss Louise Lawson, a twenty-four year old motion picture actress today was found dead in her rooms in a fashionable apartment house.

The actress' hands had been "spread eagled" and tied to the bed posts with a dog leash. Her Belgian Police dog was found lashed to a chair in another room.

The body was discovered by a negro maid who went to the apartment to prepare breakfast for the actress.

Police said the murder must have occurred after 8:30 a. m. today, as the tenant of an adjoining apartment said she had heard her bell ring several times at that hour. To the girl's query, the caller replied he was an expressman. The door was opened, the tenant said, and the caller apparently entered. Nothing more was heard.

The body was found only in a night gown. A portion of the towel about the woman's head had been stuffed in to her mouth, and it had been fastened to the sides of her head with adhesive tape.

The girl had been strangled to death after she had been attacked, according to the physician.
Later, the police said Miss Lawson apparently had been the victim of burglars who had subdued her only after a desperate struggle.

Harold Spender, in whose version of Lloyd George's remarks the former premier was made to charge a secret pact between Clemenceau and Wilson, sticks to the accuracy of his statement. Lloyd George has denied the interview.

State department officials say dispatch of the Cruiser does not mean there has been a decision to intervene.

First Execution By Lethal Gas in U. S. is Carried Out Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Carson City, Nev., Feb. 8.—Geo. Jon, Chinese tong slayer, was executed by lethal gas today. He died thirty seconds after the gas was turned into the death chamber, in the first execution by lethal gas in American history. Until last night two men had been doomed to die. As a special meeting of the state board of pardons, however, it was decided to commute to life imprisonment the sentence of Thomas Russell, an American born Mexican convicted of killing his Indian sweetheart.

The execution of Geo. Jon was set for 10 a. m. in the death chamber, a little stone building in the prison yard, in which cells had been constructed for the condemned men. He was strapped in a chair. The gas was in another air tight stone compartment. Warden D. S. Dickerson had arranged for the witnesses to view the execution through two windows.
As the gas was turned on it made a slight hissing sound, which was audible to the witnesses outside. The condemned man looked around at the direction of the sound and then gasped for breath. His head bobbed up and down several times.

LANGUAGE CLAIMING VIOLATION OF LAW AROUSES PRES.

McAdoo to Be Given an Opportunity to Testify on Monday.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Feb. 8.—Directors of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company today voted to withdraw the recent offer to stockholders to subscribe to the capital stock of the Pan-American Western Petroleum Company which was recently organized to develop the California naval oil leases.

Action of the directors means virtual dissolution of the western subsidiary, which was formed in November with a capital of 1,500,000 shares, in which Pan-American Petroleum held a 59 per cent interest. The remaining 625,000 shares were offered to stockholders of the parent company at $20 a share.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 8.—After a disagreement among its members over the trend taken by the oil inquiry, the senate oil committee decided today to defer until Monday its examination of W. G. McAdoo.

Previously it had been decided to permit him to appear tomorrow in response to his request that he be given an opportunity to explain his connections with E. L. Doherty.

This decision was reversed after a long committee session at which F. G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post, related how his paper had begun an expose of the Teapot Dome situation months ago and then had stopped, and how representatives of a group of which he was a member had made an agreement under which Harry F. Sinclair was to make considerable financial concessions and provide the claims of others to rights within the Teapot reserve were dropped.

Coolidge's Exceptions.
The Walsh resolution directing President Coolidge to proceed in the courts for cancellation of the Doherty and Sinclair leases reached the White House and Mr. Coolidge prepared a statement taking exception to certain language in the preamble, which declares the contracts were made in violation of the law.

On the senate floor, debate was resumed on the resolution requesting the resignation of Secretary Denby, with Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, leading in the attack on the navy secretary. At the outset of his speech the Montana senator also assailed Chairman Lenroot of the oil committee because Mr. McAdoo's name had been brought into the inquiry.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 8.—William G. McAdoo will be heard by the senate oil committee tomorrow.

Appearing at his own request he will explain fully his professional services with the Doherty Oil Companies. Decision in Mr. McAdoo's request was reached today by the committee after Chairman Lenroot had read into the record a letter sent to him last night by Mr. McAdoo asking for an immediate hearing. The chairman also read the letter of E. L. Doherty, correcting his testimony as to the total fees paid to Mr. McAdoo, and Attorney General Daugherty's telegram of February 1, stating that the Department of Justice never was called on to pass the oil leases.

Geologist Protests
J. O. Lewis, a geologist employed by the committee in investigating conditions at Teapot Dome, protested, in a memorandum read, against suggestions which he said had been made by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana. He insisted that when he accepted employment his "mind was open" on matters under investigation.

F. G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post, appeared as a voluntary witness to tell of his efforts to assist Leo Stack to enforce a contract Stack had with the Midwest and other oil companies supposed to own acreage in the Teapot Dome reserve before it was leased to Harry F. Sinclair by former Secretary Fall.

There were rumors about the Sinclair lease, the witness continued, which led him to send a reporter to New Mexico to investigate.

"Shocking Story."
"He brought back a shocking and astounding story," Mr. Bonfils said. "It was one we hesitated to believe. He was sent back to make further inquiry and was cautioned not to reveal his identity, because there might be great danger or bodily harm to him."

The witness said that after he returned, it was decided to publish a series of articles in the Post. The lease was continued, and later Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, introduced his resolution calling for an inquiry.
Mr. Bonfils said J. W. Zevely, personal counsel to Mr. Sinclair, called on him in Denver to discuss the matter and finally invited the witness, his partner Stack and his attorney H. (Continued on Page 2)

Today's Market Report

Grain Market Firm at Close of Trade

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 8.—Enlarged buying of cash corn together with liberal export business finally overcame in the corn market today weakness which had prevailed until near the end of the board of trade session. The close was firm at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4 higher, May 8 1/4.

Toward the last, prices recovered. Exporters were said to have bought 450,000 bushels.
Wheat and oats recovered with corn. Heavy shipments of wheat from Argentina had a bearish influence. Wheat opening prices, which ranged from a shade lower to 1/4 advance, May 11 1/4 to 11 1/2, and July 11 1/4 to 11 1/2, were followed by a setback all around to well below yesterday's finish.
Oats started 1/4 to 1/2 off, May 49 1/2 to 49 3/4 and later sagged a little more.

Provisions were easier owing to a drop in hog values.
Subsequently, the wheat market rallied, helped by report that domestic farm stocks yet to come forward are light.

OBITUARY
MRS. HENRIETTA SARTORIUS.
Henrietta Louise, daughter of William and Wilhelmina (Heidman) Brouwer was born in Minden, Westphalia, Germany, April 4, 1856. She came to America with her parents in 1870. She was married to Henry G. Sartorius, Nov. 22, 1877. Three children were born to this union: Guselle who passed away in January, 1880; Mrs. Lottie Plock, living at home and Carl of Amboy.

Mrs. Sartorius sank peacefully to rest at her home, Feb. 1, after a long illness during which time all that a loving husband and children could do was done for her comfort. She leaves besides the bereaved husband and children, five grandchildren, and a host of friends. Her parents, two sisters and one brother preceded her in death. Funeral was held from the late home, Feb. 4, at 1:30 and at the Prairieville church at 2 o'clock. Rev. E. C. Harris of Sterling officiating. Burial took place in the Prairieville cemetery.

She is not dead. She doth but close her eyes in peaceful sleep and in His gentle arms she doth repose while angels vigil keep and with the sun she will awake from pain and sickness free from earthly home to high and heavenly estate. Him she loved forever more to be.

H. Schwartz, to go to New York to see Sinclair.
"When we arrived," he said, "Mr. Sinclair said rather brusquely that he did not know why we came to see him; that our suit was against the Midwest & Allied Companies."
"You had filed suit then?" asked Senator Walsh.
"Oh, yes, suit had been started against the Midwest," was the reply.
Contract For Rights
Mr. Bonfils said that subsequently there was a meeting at Kansas City at which a contract was drawn. Under this the Sinclair interests were to pay $250,000 for the Stack rights and give those interested in the Stack contract 320 acres in the Teapot Dome oil reserve. This money actually was paid over by the Sinclair people, Mr. Bonfils said.
Doheny had been much interested in Stack's efforts to obtain the Teapot Dome lease, Mr. Bonfils said, but had suddenly for some unknown reason withdrawn. Mr. Bonfils explained how the $250,000 paid by Sinclair had been divided between him and his partners.
The suits that Stack had instituted, he said, to avoid rights they claim in the Teapot Dome field were settled by the agreement, which Sinclair had made with them in the name of the Mammoth Oil Corporation.
Mr. Bonfils said that E. L. Doheny while interested in the Stack claims estimated that "Mr. Stack's leases with the Midwest and other companies, at lowest value, was worth from $50,000,000 to $175,000,000."
Mr. Doheny had based his estimate, Mr. Bonfils said, upon his reports of the geologists who had examined Teapot Dome reserve.
The witness said he had never seen Mr. Fall.
Senator Walsh wanted to know what qualifications Stack had to get the lease.
"He was prominent politically and socially in Denver," was the reply. "He ran for congress on the democratic ticket and had been here in Washington for some time with the Midwest crowd and I think he had a good many reasons for doing this work."
"Just what was it you were doing," asked Senator Walsh.
"I was to see if we could not get some value for his contract," he said.
Before the committee adjourned until tomorrow Mr. Bonfils said he had turned over to Senator Walsh the report and evidence of what his reported "had found in New Mexico."
William G. McAdoo, candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, announced his resignation as special counsel for E. L. Doheny in a letter to Chairman Lenroot, requesting an immediate hearing.
Mr. McAdoo, in his letter, declared that "if my conduct in acting professionally for the Doheny companies in the Mexican oil matters 'is open to criticism, then no lawyer can take a cabinet office unless he be rich enough to give up all professional employment in business when he comes out of office."
Asserting he had "never dealt in political influence, nor did I ask or promise, or give or receive political favors, or other favors" he said he was terminating his professional connection with the California oil magnate because he feared "that the newspaper accounts might be as vicious and unfair" to Mr. Doheny as they had been to him.
Berlin Passes Buck to Ambassador Here
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Feb. 8.—The foreign office refuses to discuss reports of Ambassador Wiedfeldt's possible resignation as a result of the Washington flag incident, but it seems to be clearly the government's intention to shift responsibility to the ambassador.
As Dr. Wiedfeldt is known to desire to return and resume his post at the Krupp plant, from which the government drafted him for the ambassadorship, it would cause no surprise if he took this occasion to abandon his diplomatic duties which he took up unwillingly.

Funeral of Lincoln's Victims Feb. 16th
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Feb. 8.—The funeral of Mrs. Lina Lincoln and her brother, Byron Shoup, who were slain here by Mrs. Lincoln's husband, Warren, Jan. 10, 1923, will be held in the old home town, Mt. Pulaski, Ill., Feb. 16. It was announced today. The heads of Mrs. Lincoln and Shoup were found at a city dump here Jan. 19, 1924, in a cement block in which they had been sealed by Lincoln. The bodies have not been found. Lincoln says he burned them in a furnace of his green house. He is expected to be arraigned in the Kane County circuit court at Geneva Monday afternoon. The grand jury which considers his case reports Monday morning.

ASSAULT IS CHARGED
The C. E. Harrington farm east of Dixon on the Daysville road, was the scene of congregation of two cars of deputy sheriffs at the noon hour today. Sheriff Risley received a call about 12 o'clock, asking him to come to the farm, and take charge of Mr. Harrington, who was said to be flourishing a revolver in a threatening manner.
Later and while the sheriff was at the Harrington farm, two more deputies were sent out to serve a warrant on Ed. Kinney, tenant on the farm, and his son in which they were charged with having committed assault and battery. The warrants were sworn out before Justice Grove W. Gehant by Mr. Harrington after he returned to town. The case was set for hearing at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A BIRTHDAY—
My heart is like a singing bird
Whose nest is in a water'd shoot;
My heart is like an apple-tree
Whose boughs are bent with thick-set fruit;
My heart is like a rainbow shell
That paddles in a halcyon sea;
My heart is gladder than all these;
Because my love is come to me.
—Christina Rossetti.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—
Knitting Needle.

When celluloid knitting needles become bent you can straighten them by holding them over the steam from a teakettle and then plunging into cold water to harden. Never, of course, hold celluloid near an open flame.

Fresh Baked Cake.
A cake will not stick to the pan if, when you remove it from the oven, you chill it on the bottom by placing the pan for a few moments on a cloth saturated with cold water.

To Dry Clothes.
If you find clothes difficult to dry inside the house on a rainy day you can accelerate the process by turning on the electric fan.

Faded Colors.
A little vinegar added to the rinse water will sometimes revive faded colors. The proportion should be about a spoonful to a quart of water.

Gold Lace.
To clean gold or silver lace sew it to a strip of clean cloth and boil in a solution of salt and water, one cup of salt to a gallon of water. When it has dried, without removing it from the cloth, sponge with white velvet dipped in alcohol.

Rag Carpet.
When the warp in your rag carpet breaks and leaves a hole mend it by stitching back and forth across the hole with your sewing machine.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

VALENTINE.
Sister Mary Tells How to Prepare Children's Party.
(By Sister Mary.)
Valentine Day, (Feb. 14) always has a distinct appeal to small people. It affords unusual opportunities for decoration.

Sandwiches, cakes, salads, ice creams and candies can be made heart-shaped and the favors can be tiny heart-shaped boxes filled with candy.

A Jack Horner pie in the shape of a huge heart might be made of pink crepe-paper rose petals and suspended over the dining table. Ribbons should be attached to favors in the "pie," reaching to each plate, and the children should pull at the same time.

The menu should be simple and easily digested but quite gala and partied.

Menu.
Creamed Salmon in Rice Cups
Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Tomato Jelly Salad
Heart Cakes
Raspberry Sponge
Hot Chocolate
Creamed Salmon in Rice Cups.
One large can salmon, 3 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 canned pimientos, 1 teaspoon salt, paprika, 2 cups rice, 2 quarts cold water, 4 tablespoons butter, one teaspoon salt, two eggs, bread crumbs.

Remove salmon from can and pour over boiling water. Drain and remove skin and bones. Flake. Melt butter, stir in flour, slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Rub pimiento through sieve, add with salt and paprika. Add salmon and keep hot over hot water.

Wash rice through several waters. Put in large kettle with butter and water and bring to boiling point. Simmer until tender. Spread on platter about two inches deep. When cold and firm cut with a two-inch cookie cutter. Dip in eggs slightly beaten with two tablespoons cold water, roll in crumbs and brown quickly in deep hot fat. Drain on brown paper. When cool scoop out the center, leaving a case not more than three-quarters of an inch thick. Reheat in the oven and fill with creamed salmon.

Tomato Jelly.
One quart canned tomatoes, two carrots, 4 blades of celery, 3 sprigs parsley, 4 cloves, 1 small onion, two teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons gelatin.

Soften gelatin in one-half cup cold water. Wash and scrape carrots and cut in thin slices. Cut celery in small pieces. Peel and slice onion. Put tomatoes, vegetables and seasonings in stew pan and simmer twenty minutes. Rub through a fine sieve. Reheat to boiling point and add to softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Pour into individual heart-shaped molds and put in a cold place to chill and become firm. Serve on hearts of lettuce with a boiled salad dressing.

Raspberry Sponge.
Prepare package of raspberry gelatin according to directions. When beginning to set beat with a Dover beater until frothy. Add one cup heavy cream whipped until stiff. Fold in one cup candied cherries and one-half cup nut meats and turn into a mold to chill and become firm. Serve with whipped cream slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Riverside Circle Has Fine Meeting

The Riverside Community Circle at the Kingdom met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Floto, Feb. 1st.

The fifty members that were present and several guests, all partook of another one of those excellent suppers for which the men are getting to be quite famous.

The hosts for the evening were George Floto, Wm. Morris and Ivan Floto, assisted by their wives and their special treat of the menu was chicken and noodles which was enjoyed by all, the men being dressed in regular cook's caps. They deserve much credit also for the fine program they had for entertaining their guests which was as follows:

While supper was being prepared, Miss Ora Floto gave several selections on the piano and later in the evening Miss Floto and Miss Verna Gates favored us with several vocal numbers. The regular program opened with a piano solo by Florence Gates; reading by Morris Sanford; reading by Alice Mae Morris; duet, John Morris on the cornet, and Frank Floto on the trombone, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Floto; song by the Riverside school; vocal solo, George McWethy; reading, Edith Gronewald; reading, David Gronewald; saxophone solo by Ernest Floto, accompanied by Mrs. George Floto; reading, John Bachman; song by Edith and Eugene Gronewald; song by Riverside school. The closing number was a selection by John Morris on the cornet, Frank Floto on the trombone and Ernest Floto on the saxophone, accompanied by Mrs. George Floto.

After a social time the gathering dispersed, everyone saying they had certainly had a good time and felt that the evening had been well spent. On Feb. 15th the circle has been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morris. Every one come and see who has charge.

FLOUNCES MADE TO FOLLOW LINE OF SILHOUETTE

With so much emphasis being placed on the "pencil" silhouette, designers are favoring gowns with flat trimmings which do not break the silhouette outline.

Flat flounces are a case in point. Instead of being shirred or cut circularly, many flounces are simply straight pieces of material which hang straight against the frock.

The new model to the right has two flounces in the new peplum effect. Many narrow flounces form the whole skirt of the center figure. Three wide flounces on the dress to the left are of contrasting material to that of the gown.

These are all new spring styles of most approved design.

American Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary held their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 6, with a good number of members present. After quite a business session and the disposal of the pedestals which the organization no longer needs. At 3:38 p. m. all members were asked to stand in one minute silent prayer in respect to ex-President Woodrow Wilson whose funeral rites were in progress at this time.

After this as splendid patriotic program was rendered to commemorate the Birth of Lincoln, Illinois' adopted son. The program was prepared by Mrs. Corabel George as follows:
Reading—Mrs. Nettie Cookley.
Double Vocal Number—Miss Marjorie Greer.
Recitation—Katherine Nagle.

Address of the afternoon by Past Department President of the G. A. R. Circle—Mrs. Mae Brookner Cupp, which was greatly enjoyed. After this wonderful address, the meeting adjourned, to meet again on Feb. 20, in the evening.

After the brief business for the afternoon was concluded a happy surprise was held for Miss Rosanna Dement, a miscellaneous shower. Miss Dement received many lovely gifts from the friends present. On Valentine day, Feb. 14th, Miss Dement and Wilson Dysart are to be married, the wedding to be a quiet affair, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. D. Dement, Peoria avenue, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

A tempting luncheon was served during the social hour.

Supper Honored Miss Dement

Last evening the choir of St. Luke's Episcopal church planned and carried out a delightful surprise for Miss Rosanna Dement. Mrs. Lester Wilhelm was the prime mover in the affair, which was a picnic supper and pleasant social evening following.

Miss Dement is to become the bride of Wilson Dysart next week.

One of the happy features of the evening was the "grocery" shower held for Miss Dement.

The E. R. B. class of St. Paul's Sunday School met last evening in regular session, in the church parlors. During the business session the class voted $25 to apply on the fund in the support of the Missionary Pastor, Rev. Carl B. Caughman, in India.

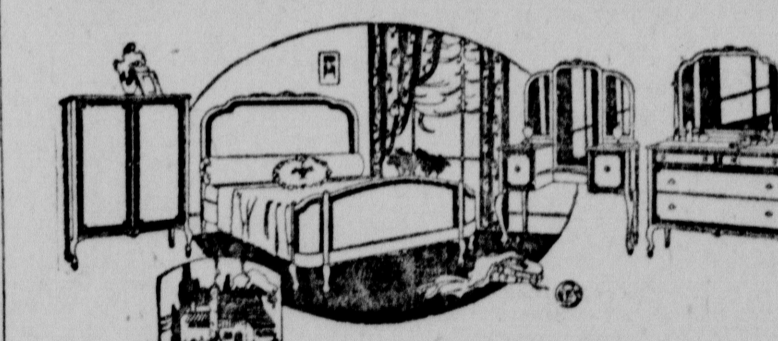

During the social session Miss Martha Meppin rendered a piano solo and responded with an encore. A reading by Mrs. Switzer, the teacher, was also much enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the social committee.

If you give, say, $100 to a community chest or some other organized charity, the law permits you to figure this as a deduction in making out national income tax return.

But if you give $100 to a poor widow with a big family—or to some other individual—it cannot be deducted.

This asinine state of affairs reflects the tendency of large organizations to perpetuate each other. Another purpose may be to prevent gifts to relatives from being entered as charity.

GHOSTLY.

Rudi, boy "medium," is a sensation in Vienna. It's claimed that, in a trance, he can lev-itate himself—rise into the air like a balloon, staying aloft nearly a minute.

We read a 3000-word account of this lad.
The thing that impresses us most is the fact that these wonders are always happening at a great distance, never nearby. No doubt, the people of Vienna hear remarkable things about America.

GO AFTER THEM.

When surtaxes were at a maximum of 13 percent, more money was collected from that source than when it was at 65 percent, which ought to be sufficient reason for cutting the present rate a 50 percent down to 25 percent as recommended in the Mellon tax plan. Of course the action of the democrats in fixing the rate at 44 percent is "political and nothing else," as Mr. Mellon has pointed out. It is an insincere gesture, intended to win the ignorant vote of the country. But, judging from the flood of letters pouring in on congress, the voters this year are highly informed on the question of taxation, and will be deceived by no such fraudulent claim as that advanced by democrats.

PARKING SPACE FOR PLANES.

"The idea of danger in flying is quite the bunk," says Anthony Fokker, Dutch designer of the famous fighting plane. "It is just as safe as any other form of transportation. All you need is the right kind of equipment and the right kind of people to operate it."

He is pleased with the aviation progress made by the United States air mail service, and is surprised that commercial aviation has lagged so in this country. That condition, he believes, will soon pass. In a short time he expects to see at least one airplane to every 1000 population, and every great city surrounded by a ring of landing fields.

The thing to think about now, he insists, is parking space for airplanes. This is rather disquieting, inasmuch as no American city seems yet to have solved the problem of parking space for automobiles, and that need is growing worse right along. Is parking space going to be the great municipal problem of the future?

TAX RATE MAY GO DOWN—WHEN?

Five weeks remain in which to pay taxes on incomes for the calendar year of 1923. Internal revenue officials already are voicing their annual plea that returns be filed early.

When the house ways and means committee agreed by unanimous vote to recommend to congress a 25 percent reduction on earned incomes of 1923, the tax that is to be paid this year, hope was created in the minds of many people, and this in turn has led to some delay in beginning the preparation of the income tax report that is to be filed not later than March 15.

It is true that if congress acts with its usual speed, or lack of it, the last day for filing will have passed before there is action on the ways and means committee recommendation for reduction. In any event no taxpayer stands to lose by filing his report on time. Indeed he stands for a penalty if he fails to file his report by March 15. If he pays one-quarter of his tax March 15 when he files his report, and the committee recommendation is later adopted, then he will have the full amount of the reduction rebated from his subsequent payments. If he elects to pay the full amount of the tax March 15, then the government rebates to him in cash the full amount of the reduction. Comparatively few, however, pay the full amount of their tax on the 15th of March, and, with the hope that this reduction may be made, the number thus paying will doubtless be fewer this year.

The only safe thing to do is to get ready to file on or before March 15, whether your intention is to pay the full amount of tax that day or only one of four installments of it.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC POLICEMEN.

Drinking in Philadelphia is now being chaperoned by policemen. An officer has been stationed at every down-town saloon, with orders to keep an eye on the bar and carefully observe the conduct of the bartender and every patron who lingers or leans suspiciously against the rail.

That helps to dry up the saloons, no doubt,
just as it helps observance of the traffic laws merely to have a policeman always in plain sight. Such enforcement, however, demands a generous supply of policemen.

Why not shut up the "saloons" altogether, when they deserve that designation? American understanding of the word saloon has long been that it designates a place where strong liquor is sold. That definition has clung, despite passage of the eighteenth amendment. It is well for law officers to accept that definition. Places licensed as soft-drink dispensaries should resent being called saloons. If they become saloons, licenses should be revoked. One conviction of liquor selling should bar the man convicted from getting another license to sell "soft drinks," as it is the rule that all such a man wants a "cover" under which he may violate the law. It is coming to be a scandal that a man may be out under bail for three to six such offenses and still doing his illicit business.

We know the ruler in almost any country.
Consternation reigns.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 20—THIS ONE'S A PERFECT CIRCUS

Sing a song of fifty cents.

"Why, I'm so surprised to see everybody here today," declared the Riddle Lady, looking around at all the Riddle Land people and Mother Goose people
—also Nancy and Nick, the Twins.
But she was only joking, and everybody knew it, for the day before she had offered some honest tea mixed with sulphur and molasses for a prize and not a soul would have it.

So, my dears, if anybody goes to give you any sulphur and molasses this spring, or anything dreadful like that, just because it is spring, look hard at the bottle it is in. I don't know what became of it, but it might be the very same one!

But there! I do talk more and say less, do I? I forgot all about the rid-die. Here it is:

"Sing a song of fifty cents,
A pocket full of dimes,
I went to a big show,
Greatest of all times.
When the tents were opened,
We went crowding in;
It's fun to see the animals
Before the acts begin."

"Popcorn and peanuts,
And tubs of lemonade,
And wagons all painted,
(The ones in the parade!)
Balloon men and ticket men,
What a lovely din!
I'm sure it's the grandest place
That I have ever been!"

"Lions and tigers,
And camels lying down—
The giraffe with the long neck
Who sees all over town
And elephants, and leopards
With spots upon their skin,
And kangaroos and crocodiles
With such a silly grin!"

"The hippo, and rhino
With horns upon his nose,
The brown bear, the black bear
With patent leather toes,
The zebra, the mountain goat
With whiskers on his chin,
The antelope and porcupine With quills sticking in."

"And then there are the jugglers
That juggle with their toes,
And even one that balances
A flag pole on his nose!
And riders, and acrobats,
And seals that make a din,
And clowns all turning somersaults,
That make your head spin!"

"And there are four-horse chariots,
And Romans that race,
And elephants that do a dance,
And march all 'round the place;
And last of all the side shows,
Fat folks and thin,
Now can you tell this wondrous place Where I have been?"

"A circus!" shouted everybody.
"Good!" laughed the Riddle Lady.
"And here are tickets for everybody."

CAVE MAN STUFF

BY BERTON BRALEY

The cave man, so we learn from science,
Were not a race of splendid giants,
But rather small and weak.
And from a study of each fossil
We gather they were shy and docile,
With natures mild and meek.

It was, we learn, the cave man's habit
To run away from any rabbit
That showed a sign of fight.
He lived on snails and little fishes,
And various vegetarian dishes
Sufficed his appetite.

So any modern fearson lizard,
With varnished hair discreetly scissored,
Could make him run away.

And ladies who adore a brave man
Would sniff if they should meet a cave man.

He'd get the gate today.

Yet, though the scientists discover
The cave man was a timid lover,
The women still agree
On longing for a bold pursuer.

The kind of chap the cave man wooed
Was once supposed to be!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERN

Oh, I wish you had not destroyed them. That one letter to me, who found its secret hiding place inside the beautiful desk, told so much and so little.

I often smile to myself, little Marquise, when I sit here and write. I wonder what my mother-in-law would think if she had known that reposing in this desk that she loved as much and which she gave me as a wedding present, was a confession which told you were the sweetheart of a king.

She is a Puritan, my dear, and she believes absolutely that every woman who breaks the seventh commandment should be stoned. She has forgotten all about the blessed Savior saying, "Go and sin no more." She has never learned that there are commandments which say,
"You must not bear false witness."

For she is a gossip old thing, you know, and she tears her neighbors' character, when they do not measure up to her standard, into little pieces.

I couldn't say this to anybody but you, little Marquise, for in the last day or two she has been very nice and offered to make up her quarrel with me (I never had one with her).
She has invited me and little John Allen Prescott, Jr., to visit her. It is a good deal for her to do and although the very thought of staying in that musty old house and listening to her old world formula of human conduct makes me almost physically ill, yet I have told John I would go.

I had planned to leave tomorrow, but last night Ruth came up as John was going out to a business dinner and told me all the gossip she had been hearing of Paula Perier's personal appearance here. She said that people were saying Jack had had the billboard taken down because it advertised her coming. I knew better than this because I heard Jack tell a man of the plan by which the Acme Advertising Company hoped to get back at the bill poster company.

"It doesn't make any difference," said Ruth, "if Jack is perfectly innocent in the matter. He is going to get the entire blame."

"Certainly, my dear, you cannot go away at this time," she added,
"it will look as though you were jealous."

It was then, little Marquise, that I decided to tell you what I knew was the truth. I said to her, "Why should I be jealous of Jack? You do not know. Ruth, that the father of little Jack is Sydney Carton, and his mother is Paula Perier. I have known this for a long time."

"Did Jack tell you that?" asked Ruth quickly.

"No dear, but everything that he has told me confirms what I suspect."

"Aren't you afraid, Leslie, that Miss Perier will want her baby back now that she is able to take care of it?"

I almost fainted. That thought had never occurred to me.

Mexicans working in a lead mine in Chihuahua have found a new use for cigarettes. The mine consists of a series of caves along the sides and bottoms of which lead and silver ore in paying quantities is found. The miners have noticed that smoke from their cigarettes is sucked through cracks in the rocks at certain points. By drilling in the wake of the smoke, they break through into another cave.

Says 15 Years Stomach Trouble Has Vanished.

"Tanlac has ended fifteen years of stomach trouble for me, leaving me with a new appetite and digestion that makes it possible for the first time in all those years for me to eat without suffering afterward," is the remarkable statement of William Morave, 1408 Grove Ave., Oak Park, Ill.

"From the time I was a boy of fourteen food would be like a lump of lead in my stomach and form gas which kept me in almost constant distress. I never had any real appetite, always felt depressed, weak and run down, and gradually got to where I could hardly keep on at my work."

"Now, thanks to Tanlac, I am enjoying life again, eating and feeling fine, rapidly regaining my normal weight and strength, and to this wonderful treatment I owe my present peace of mind and bodily ease. Tanlac has proved a real blessing in my case."

CONDUCTOR WILL LOSE ARM RESULT COMPTON ACCIDENT

Member Crushed as He Was Making Coupling
in Train.

Compton—Ralph M. Carnahan, Roy Swope, Henry Montavon and Ray Guinnip motored to Ottawa, Monday, to attend a Masonic School of Instruction held there Monday evening.

Mrs. Edward Bettner went to DeKalb, Wednesday where she will enter the Northern State Teachers College for a term of about six months. Mrs. Bettner expects to enter the ranks of the Lee County teachers.

Mrs. J. Mannon of Rockford was here Sunday and spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Jos. Gehant.

Ernest Clemmons brought his wife home from the hospital at Rockford, Monday. She had been there for about four weeks.

A very serious accident occurred here Tuesday to Hans Smith a conductor on a train whose engine had been sent here to assist the regular morning train which was snow bound a short distance from the station. The extra engine was backing up to hook on to the stalled train when Smith's arm was caught between the bumpers and was badly mangled and it was stated that the accident would cost the unfortunate man the loss of his arm. He was immediately taken to a doctor where he was given medical treatment.

The Women's Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. S. O. Argraves and in spite of the blizzard which was raging, there was a good attendance and an enjoyable program. Mrs. Grace Withey of Franklin Grove, County Chairman of the thirteenth district of the Federation of Women's Clubs, was present and offered many valuable suggestions and told of projects accomplished by other clubs. Vocal solos by Mrs. Lucilla Fricke and Miss Helen Butler were much enjoyed. A social hour and luncheon followed the program. Much credit for the success of the meeting was due to the committee composed of Mrs. Ruth Foley, Mrs. S. O. Argraves and Mrs. Mary Caranahan. Several new members have been added to the club and a lively interest in the work is being shown.

A very pleasant Leap Year Party was given by the young ladies of the Compton High School at the home of A. B. July. Twelve couples were present. The evening was spent in dancing, games and a program the last number of which was the "Compton High School" song. A cafeteria lunch was served, consisting of sandwiches, pickles and various kinds of fruit, cakes and other goodies. At a late hour all dispersed, the young men wishing that leap year would come more frequently.

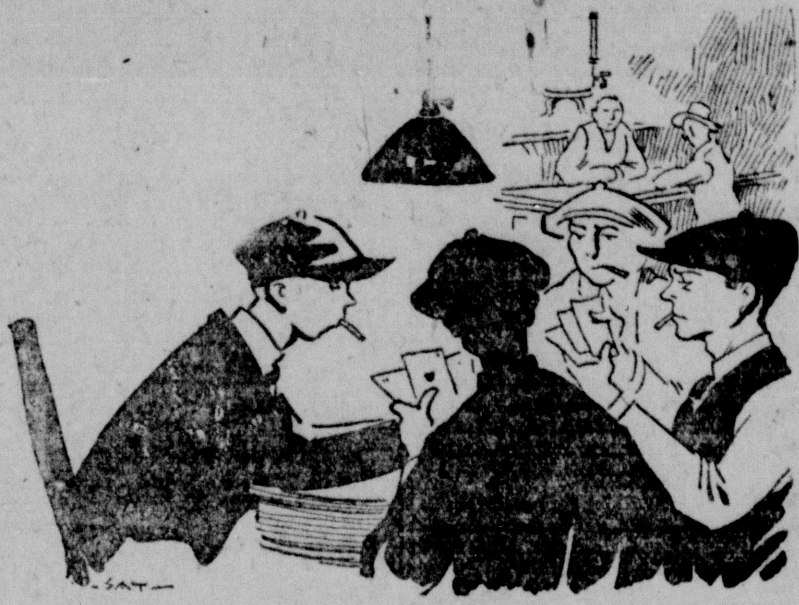

Several of our young people were shopping in Dixon Saturday. Those from here were Geo. Bressen, Bertha Walter, Lucille Cook, Clarence Walter and Arline Montavon.

Miss Faye Cook stayed over Sunday with her friend, Miss Evelyn July. Wayne Archer spent the week-end

Underworld Nights

by Alexander Herman
SEA SERVICE WRITER

No. 10—WITH THE SMALL-TIMERS

THEY WERE ALL PLAYING CARDS

The underworld is a place of many shades of influence. It is composed of many sects, of men of different stations of many nationalities.

Each type is distinctive; each technique different.

In Greenwich Village, just around the corner from a long line of atmospheric places frequented by out-of-towners who want to see New York lies a short street, on which dwells the Italian mob of the great city.

The hangout of its master minds is in a little grocery shop where the finest oil and table luxuries are sold in the front part of the store, and the most expensive bootleg liquor in the back.

The owner of the place was not in when we called. He had just been arrested while hauling a $75,000 liquor load across the state line. His brother was running the shop, and he wasn't very friendly.

A false move, or a false word, would have brought a quick squelching. For each of the men in the little place was heeled.

Later in the night, when we passed the place again, we saw a long row of limousines from the fashionable uptown lined before the shop. Their owners were inside getting supplies. But they did not know that they were getting their visiting at the home of F. J. Flor-schultz.

Fred P. Gilmore shipped a car load of hogs to the city market Monday.

Fred Denikas, and family were in Mendota, Thursday.

Max Bradshaw returned home from Wisconsin University Tuesday for a short vacation between semesters.

Eugene F. Henry and wife had a narrow escape from being asphyxiated with poison gas while riding in their car Sunday near Amboy. They were

New President Was Installed at Eureka

Eureka, Ill., Feb. 6.—Three principal objects should have a college or university in training young men and women to take their place in the world. President David Kinley of the University of Illinois declared today at the inauguration of Bert Wilson as President of Eureka College.

These are, the training of the body; the development of logical power of analysis and reason, and the inclusion of moral and religious idealism. President Kinley said.

The speaker expressed doubt toward the efficacy of a plan of education "so specific in character as definitely to fit young men and young women for particular callings. I have not much faith in the doctrine of specific talent, but believe still very strongly in the idea of general ability," he said.

"We have neglected too long the training of the body," President Kinley declared. "It seems to me that we college and university people must give greater authoritative attention to physical education."

"The principal thing to be desired in the intellectual education of young people is the development of their logical power of analysis and reason. This development of ability to think is the principal intellectual purpose of a college education."

It is said that the largest piece of jade in the world is that in the American Museum of National History, in New York. At first glance it looks almost as large as Plymouth Rock; actually it is seven feet long and four feet wide.

THAT HANG-ON COUGH MUST GO

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of all for the Cough That Sticks.

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this supremely excellent cough mixture yourself why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from Rowland Bros. or any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength) to this add a little granulated sugar as directed, and enough water to make one-half pint—that's all there is to it.

Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because in its there is a substance (too costly for ordinary cough syrups) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poultice, and blessed relief comes at once.—Adv.

CHEERING THE INVALID

Almost every individual has a certain amount of healing power in thought, touch, word and action. This sympathetic power for giving comfort, hope and stimulation to the invalid we should never forget. The psychology of our actions on such occasions is of real curative value.

Optimism in abundance must be your program, when dealing with the invalid or shut-in. Its power for restoring health is marvelous. Words of cheer and hope have helped many a weary sufferer through long days and sleepless nights.

The physician knows well that the return to health and strength is as much a condition of wanting to get well as it is from his skill in operation or treatment. Should the patient be at a distance from home and loved ones, it is well to remember that there is a rather definite limit, varying in degree more or less, according to the temperament of the patient, beyond which your absence, to console and sympathize, does not make the heart grow fonder.

Serious relapses and long postponement of health are often occasioned by the patient's lost confidence in himself. Cheering the invalid is a duty of great health value and brings its own reward.

In Turkey a common punishment for crime is to sew the criminal in a bag and throw him into the sea.

AUDITORIUM

H. E. Aitken, Vice-President and General Manager of the Epoch Producing Company, owner of the "Birth of a Nation," who is here from New York in charge of the litigation and exhibition of that picture, states:

"There will be no further interference by the police with the exhibition of 'The Birth of a Nation.' This agreement was made between the attorneys after an all day argument before Judge Sullivan.

The case will be tried in court in due time to determine if the picture violates the state law, which prohibits the exhibition of pictures which expose the citizens of any creed, race, color or nation or obnoxious to the church or the state. It will form a memorandum.

Claimed as of church bells is now being land. It will form a memorandum.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

SUNDAY CLOSING

Editor Telegraph:

Ought not a word be said concerning the proposition of closing the Sunday theater, petitions for a vote on which are now being circulated? Does it not seem that those who are sponsoring this move are extremely unfair in having permitted our citizens to erect a theater, of which we are all as proud as we are of anything we have in the city, at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars, and now by community action to endeavor to throw this great investment into the realm of the doubtful paying ones? The question was considered before the building was erected, should not action have been taken then, if we were to act fairly? Why should we be asked to close a theater when we have for 30 years conducted an Assembly providing Sunday entertainments? Doesn't this seem to place the sponsors of this move, as coming before us with unclean hands?

Will it not unnecessarily stir up strife and bitterness in an otherwise harmonious community? We hear a great deal about the spirit of lawlessness, isn't this spirit, to some extent, engendered by too much paternalism in government? Is it wise to attempt to regulate our lives to the point of telling us where we must spend our Sunday evenings? What will be the next step of ill advised reformation and when will come the revolution of feeling which will throw us back farther than we have been, when history repeats itself?

Will the move if successful result in greater attendance at church or will those who now attend both church and theater be peeved enough to stop both?

If the theater should be closed for the poor and irreligious (?) how can we also close the Sunday Assembly and golf course—both of which are outside the city limits—and get back to the gasless Sundays?

Sunday was made for worship and rest, rest and recreation are synonymous, let us have plenty of all.

Why not have more of the broad minded religion of our Saviour, who when his attention was called by the scoffers to the violation of their ideas of the observance of the Sabbath, by his disciples, said "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath."

Neither the author nor any of his relatives have any financial interest whatsoever in the Dixon Theater or any amusement enterprise.

Stand up for what you believe is right and if you do not believe in the justice of the move, don't sign the petition, to disrupt the community at an expense of some $600.00 of the taxpayers money for election costs.

Parents Get Letter from "Lost" Daughter

Rockford, Feb. 7.—Miss Emma Bennett, age 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert J. Bennett, who mysteriously disappeared Monday night, is well and in Milwaukee, Wis., according to a letter from her received by her parents late yesterday. She is said not to have given any reason for her sudden departure, the message stating she was well and asked her parents not to worry.

Shall you and I be wheat or tares on the day of harvest? Do you ask whether it is possible for the tares to be changed into wheat? Yes! But only by a miracle of grace—the miracle of conversion. Before the harvest comes, there is hope. "Therefore, turn ye, turn ye, for why will we die?"

REYNOLDS CHURCH

Rev. J. G. Feucht, Pastor
During the month of February and including the first Sunday of March, the pastor will preach a series of sermons based on the prophet Hosea. This prophet was a passionate preacher of righteousness whose message was a remarkably fitting application of the conditions of our own day. Some minds with an abnormal propensity toward the mysterious and toward fantastically spun theories will find a splendid corrective in the practical messages of the Minor Prophets. The following are the subjects based on the book of Hosea:
1. Disloyalty to Jehovah.
2. Social Immorality.

3. Social Unrighteousness.

4. The Law of Retribution.
5. The Law of Mercy.
A cordial invitation is extended to all in the community to attend our morning services.

Back Salary Demand By Hollocher Brings Reply from Cub Pres.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Demand for back salary was the reason given today by Charles Hollocher, shortstop of the Chicago Nationals, for remaining on the voluntary retired list. In a telegram to the Chicago Journal, he declared he would remain on the retired list until his claim for salary and doctor's bill was adjusted. He left the club in the middle of the season, last summer, because of illness, and has been on the voluntary retired list since, as his contract expired last fall.

W. L. Veck, president of the Cubs, said in a statement today: "Hollocher indicates that the club is in arrears in the payment of his salary, which is a charge of dishonesty." He added that Hollocher had failed to carry out his part of an agreement by which the player was to undergo an X-ray examination. Hollocher, he said, after having one X-ray picture taken, went to St. Louis after notifying Manager Killifer of his intentions.

The player then appealed to Commissioner Landis for voluntary retirement and this was granted. Voluntary retirement naturally means retirement of his own seeking. Mr. Veck declared.

TOO GOOD TO SELL

A matter of fact, father of an embryo poet handed some of the lad's efforts to a distinguished author of verse, and asked for his opinion.

"Well, what's the answer?" queried the father after the author had glanced through the copy.

"Alas!" sighed the poet, "those things are so good, I'm afraid you'll have to support Henry the rest of his life."—Writers' Monthly.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists call it "Joint-Ease" because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism of something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it really does is to get rid of the cause of all these ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surges in like a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Public Drug & Book Co., and all drugists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first-class drugists everywhere.—Adv.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holles, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, the land of his birth, when war is declared with Holland. He comes to lodge with Martha Quinn, hostess of the Paul's Head, in Paul's Yard, London. The colonel secures an audience with his old friend, His Grace of Almarie. The Duke receives the colonel cordially and tells him that rear soldiers are greatly needed in the English army. Holles offers his services to his country and is warmly welcomed by His Grace. The colonel, on the warrant for the execution of the late king, therefore it is dangerous for the colonel to secure an army commission. Holles returns to Mrs. Quinn's to rest and visions of a youthful love affair return to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Nimble as a cat he dropped to earth on the wall's hither side, and stood there half crouching, a smile on his young lips and laughter in his gray eyes. He was watching a girl who—utterly unconscious of his presence—swept to and fro through the air on a swing that was formed of a single rope passed from one tree to another.

She was a child, no more; yet of a well-grown, lissom grace that deceived folk into giving her more than the bare fifteen years she counted to her age. Hers was no rose-and-lily complexion. She displayed the healthy tan that comes of a life lived in the open far away from cities. Yet one glance into the long-shaded, deeply blue eyes that were the glory of her lovely little face sufficed to warn you that though rustic she was not simple. Here was one who possessed a full share of that feminine guile which is the heritage from Mother Eve to her favored daughters. If you were a man and wise, you would be most wary when she was most demure.

Swinging now, her loosened brown hair streamed behind her as she flew forward, and tossed itself into a cloud about her face as she went back. And she sang as merrily as possible in rhythm with her swinging:

"Hey, young love! Ho, young love! Where do you tarry?"

Whither here I stay for you waiting to marry.

Hey, young love! Ho, young love! The song ended in a stream.

Unheard, unsuspected, the stripling had crept forward through the trees. At the top of her backward swing he had caught her about the waist in his strong young arms. There was a momentary flutter of two black legs amid an agitated cloud of petticoat, then the rope swung forward, and the nymph was left in the arms of her young satyr. But only for a moment. Out of that grip she broke in a fury—real or pretended—and came to earth breathless, with flushed cheeks and flashing eyes.

"You give yourself strange liberties," young Randal said, and, boxed his ears. "Who bade you here?"

"I thought you called me," said he, grinning, no whit abashed by either blow or look. "Come now, Nan. Confess it!"

"I called you? It?" She laughed indignantly. "The very likely! Oh, very likely!"

"You'll deny it, of course, being a woman in the making. But I heard you." And he quoted for her, singing: "Hey, young love! Ho, young love! Where do you tarry?"

"I was hiding on the other side of the wall. I came at once. And all I get for my pains and the risk to a fairly new pair of breeches is a blow and a denial."

"You may get more if you remain."

"I hope so. I had not come else."

"But it'll be as little to your liking."

Four Indicted for Misusing U. S. Mails

New York, Feb. 7.—Indictments charging fraudulent use of the mails were returned against fourteen men in federal court on Monday, it became known today. The men are alleged to have advertised extensively, under names identical with legitimate business houses, offering merchandise at prices below actual value, and to have retained the money.

The city of London's last reception to the Prince of Wales took receipt of 135 out of the municipal treasury.

was a pathetic quiver at the corners of her mouth, a suspicious brightness in her drooping eyes.

"Why, Nan!" he cried, alarmed by phenomena so unexpected and unusual.

"Oh, why did you do that?" she cried on a sob.

"I've been wanting to do it this twelve-month," said he simply. "And I shall want to do it again. Nan, dear, don't you know how much I love you? Don't you know without my telling you? Don't you?"

The fervent question chased away her trouble and summoned surprise to fill his place. A moment she stared at him, and her glance hardened. She began to show signs of recovery.

"The declaration should have preceded the . . . the . . . affront."

"But I love you, Nan! I've said so," he expostulated.

"You're too precocious, young Randal. It comes, I suppose, of being given a sword to play with. I shall have to speak to your father about it. You need manners more than a sword at present."

The mix was skilled in the art of punishing. But the lad refused to be put out of countenance.

"Nan, dear, I'm asking you to marry me."

She jumped at that. Her eyes dilated. "Lord!" she said. "What condescension! But don't think I want a child tied to my apron-strings!"

"I am going away, Nan—tomorrow, very early. I came to say good-by."

Her eyelids flickered, and in that moment a discerning glance would have detected a gleam of alarm from her blue eyes. But there was no hint of it in her voice.

"I thought you said it was to marry me, you came."

"Why will you be teasing me? It means so much to me, Nan. I want you to say that you'll wait for me; that you'll marry me some day."

He would have caught her by the shoulders again. But she eluded those eager hands of his.

"You haven't told me yet where you are going."

"I am going to London, to the army. My father has procured me a cornetcy of horse, and I am to serve under General Monk, who is his friend."

It made an impression, though she did not give him the satisfaction of seeing how great that impression was. As it was, the surprise of it left her silent, staring at him in a new wonder. He took advantage of it to approach her again. He caught her to him, taking her unaware this time and seizing her suddenly, before she could elude him.

"Nan, my dear!"

She struggled in his arms. But he held her firmly. She struggled the harder, and, finding her struggles ineffective, her temper rose. Her hands against his breast she thrust him back.

"Release me at once! Release me, or I'll scream!"

At that and the anger in her voice, he let her go, and stood sheepishly, abashed, whilst she retreated a few paces from him, breathing quickly, her eyes aflame.

"Forgive me, Nan!" He was in a passion of penitence, fearing that this time he had gone too far and angered her in earnest. "Ah, don't be cruel. It is our last day together for Heaven knows how long."

She should mend your manners," she reproved him by way of compromise.

"Why, so I will. It's only that I want you so; that I'm going away—far away; that after today I won't see you again maybe for years. If you say that you don't care for me at all, why, then I don't think that I'll come back to Potheridge ever. But if you care—be it never so little, Nan—if you'll wait for me, it'll send me away with a good heart, it'll give me strength to become great. I'll conquer the world for you, my dear. I'll end grandly, as is the way of youth in its unbounded confidence. I'll bring it back to toss it in your lap."

Her eyes were shining. His devotion and enthusiasm touched her. But her mischievous perversity must be dissembling it. She laughed on a rising infection that was faintly mocking.

Standardized Farm Practices Urged

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Standardization of farm practices so that the average farmer may know and follow methods of the comparatively small number of farmers who are uniformly successful regardless of good times and bad is urged by the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Cooperation with the extension divisions of the agricultural colleges, the county agricultural agents, the farm engineering colleges and rural schools teaching agriculture are underway. Through its manufacturers and dealers who serve the six million old farms, application of standard practices is to be developed by the association as a further step in the standardization and elimination of all lines of farm equipment from fence posts to tractors and threshers.

A GALLANT COURTIER

A Frenchman was courting an English girl. Her mother said, mischievously: "Now, monsieur, if my daughter and I were drowning, which would you save first?"

With great presence of mind, he replied: "I would save madam, and I would perish with mademoiselle!"—London Daily News.

Novel Proposal of Jefferson Memorial Foundation Issued

Richmond, Va., Feb. 7.—A plan to make Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's home near Charlottesville, Va., a memorial that will "embody active and continuous service for the preservation and spread of American ideals," has been worked out by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, which is conducting a campaign for funds. The plan calls for the selection each year of three American citizens judged to have rendered the greatest service to humanity in science, education and government, who will be designated "guests of the nation." They will be entitled to occupy Monticello, each for three months, as the central figure in an educational program of national scope, directed by the foundation.

Sweden was the first country to recognize that a wife's services in the home had a legal value.
